She referred to the time as her Godly Hour

I want to give you a progress report on the status of my health. As you may know I injured my neck several months ago which necessitated me wearing a cervical collar. I am pleased to let you know that the collar is gone and my recovery is going very well.

Thank you for your prayers and financial support during this time. We must continue to open the doors of Biblical truth to the masses. Here is a recent example from one of our viewers:

Dear Viewers and Faithful Supporters,

“Who is that talking in my living room,” Stella wondered. She was very ill and each night struggled to get to sleep. She would turn her TV to a nature station that played beautiful soothing music in the background. But tonight was different. She had finally dozed off and then was stirred from her sleep at 2:00 am by the sound of a man’s voice! She exclaimed, “What an ungodly hour for him to be on.”

She turned to watch the screen and saw a pastor talking about things she never knew were in the Bible, things that shocked her. To make sure he wasn’t making up these ideas she went to the shelf and found her Bible. After cleaning off the heavy layer of dust she began looking up the texts. And sure enough, “Every text Pastor Kenneth Cox was using was right there in front of me.” The next night, and each succeeding night, she says, “The Lord awakened me exactly on time for Pastor Cox’s program.” Rather than calling it an ungodly hour, she referred to the time as her “Godly Hour.”

Stella was living in Eugene, Oregon at the time. She is not proud of her past life but would like you to know a little about “the pit from which she was dug.” Isaiah 51:1. She was raised in a religion where Bible reading was not encouraged. As a child she was never comfortable confessing to a priest because she feared he would tell her parents about her sins. So, she would make up stories to tell him in the confessional booth, then prayed to God for forgiveness.

Over many years she began experimenting with drugs, first with marijuana, eventually becoming a cocaine addict for 15 years! But then came those nightly “awakenings to hear Pastor Cox.” She was shocked to learn about the Seventh-day Sabbath as taught so clearly in Scripture. Why hasn’t someone told me this truth before, she wondered.

One night she learned that when you die you don’t go straight to heaven. This was startling news to her. She had lived in fear that her grandparents and her brother were watching her every move from heaven. It was such a comfort to her to find in the Scriptures that they are simply resting in the grave until Jesus comes again.

Stella continued to watch our programs and carefully examined the Scriptures until she became totally convinced of the truths in the Bible and was baptized.
